About the Author

INTRODUCTION

Since the latter part of 2018, I started posting my caption contest on my Facebook page to inspire interaction among my friends, many of whom are other authors. It became so popular that people started coming up to me at conventions and conferences telling me how much they loved these posts and looked forward to them on a daily basis. I only wish people would be as interested in my novels. LOL

So I decided to create free ebooks and share these to those who subscribe to my monthly newsletter. A good laugh is priceless. These are not for sale. They are free. The only profit is laughter.

Tell your friends.
